Agricultural Tools, Seeds, Plants, &c.
No. 119 Exchange Street, Portland.
Price Only $30.00 Per Ton.
Read the following experiments by Dr. Clark:
Experiments made by DR. ELIPHALET CLARK of Portland, Maine, with special fertilizers, during the season of 1869, viz: Croasdale's Superphosphates, furnished by S. H. Robbins, Esq., Agent; Cumberland Super Phosphates, furnished by Mr. Morris, Agent; Lobster Chum, furnished by Edward Pierce, Esq.; Bone meal and wood ashes, prepared according to directions given by Dr. Nichols' Journal of Chemistry; Porgy Chum; the two last furnished by Dr. Clark. These articles were given by the above named agents and owners for the purpose of testing the comparative value on different soils and several crops. The fertilizers were applied broad cast, to grass land, on the 29th April, each five pounds per square rod on 1-4 of an acre. The soil is good sandy loam, the westerly end of the land used some fifteen feet higher than the easterly end. The grass was badly winter killed the previous year, and the crops were not more than one-half ton per acre. After the use of the above fertilizers the yield was as follows:—

Croasdale's,	Increase	50 per cent.
Lobster Chum,	"	75 per cent.
Cumberland,	"	65 per cent.
Bone Meal and Ashes,	increase	66 per cent.
Porgy Chum,	"	50 per cent.

Experiments on potatoes planted on deep black soil, under drained.
3 Bushels "Orono" ninety-five hills, Croasdale.
4½ Bushels "Orono" 95 hills, Lobster Chum.
3½ Bushels "Orono" 95 hills, Cumb rland.
4½ Bushels "Oron," 95 hills, Bone meal and ashes.
Good on all crops, but more especially on potatoes and grass. my2d&w1m

Wholesome Insurance Legislation.

We publish, in another column, the text entire of the new insurance law of Maine, which was approved on the 21st ult. Underwriters of all classes and localities will be interested in reading it. They will discover, in so doing, that Mr. Examiner Paine failed as utterly and ignominiously in his attempt to incorporate in the law provision for a hateful and oppressive tax upon outside insurance companies, as in his other attempt to secure himself the emoluments of the office of insurance commissioner. Not only is the Act silent upon the subject of taxation, but it speaks in unmistakeable language to the effect that no person, holding the office of examiner of banks, shall, at the same time, hold that of insurance commissioner, which effectually checkmates Mr. Paine in his endeavor to monopolize the perquisites of both these offices.

For this, the already overburdened companies and the citizens of the State of Maine, who were threatened with the two-fold evil of an indirect tax, in the shape of increased insurance premiums, and a direct burden, in the shape of Mr. Paine examiner and commissioner, have largely to thank the Chronicle. It was this journal which first sounded the alarm, and exposed the nature of Mr. Paine's little game, and from that time pursued him unsparingly, taking good care that its criticisms should come before the insurance committee of the legislature. Surely, we may be pardoned for no little gratification at the result.

The law is, in the main, sensible and salutary. In some respects it is an improvement upon any State insurance law now in force. It is, at the same time, more simple and more comprehensive than any other. It leaves more of the details of administration to the discretion of the commissioner, and makes him the judge of the companies' solvency, reserving to them the right of appeal from his judgment to the Supreme Court.

Among other noticeable features in it, the following are the most unusual, and will not fail to attract attention and criticism:

A notable omission of the law is, that no fixed amount of capital is required of insurance companies organized in the State. Companies of other States are required to have a paid-up capital of $100,000, and, to the everlasting honor of Maine legislators, let it be recorded, that in this section it is provided that no co-operative association, incorporated by any other State, shall be permitted to do business in Maine without a bona fide paid-up capital or cash assets of $100,000.

The standard for the valuation of life policies is fixed at 4 per cent. interest, and the Actuaries' Table of morality. Valuations are left optional with the commissioner, and no additional fee seems to be charged for making them. The delivery of a policy within the State, by mail, is construed to be an issue of such a policy within the meaning of that clause of the statute which prohibits such issue when the company has been expelled by the commissioner.

But, perhaps, the most remarkable provision of the law, is that which vests in the commissioner judicial authority to try all cases where the officers of any insurance company shall apply to him, in writing, stating their belief that a person has procured insurance of them by false representations, or that such company has sustained a loss by the fraudulent act of the assured. For this purpose the commissioner is empowered to summon and examine under oath, at such time and place as he shall designate, any person or persons, and to require the production of all books or papers necessary for a full investigation of the facts. Such investigation is to be made at the expense of the company.

It does not appear from the statute when the result of such investigation is to be final and binding upon both parties; but it would seem, of course, impossible to deprive either of the right of appeal to the courts. The utility of this provision will provoke no little discussion. We are inclined to believe it wholesome. The result of such an investigation, conducted by one man, can hardly fail to be the discovery of fraud, if any has been perpetrated; while the possibility of such investigation hanging in terrorem over the dishonest applicant, will be to restrain fraud and prevent crime.

On the whole, the law is a good one, and reflects much credit upon the good sense of the legislature which enacted it. The motto of the State of Maine,—Dirigo, is a proud one, and it is to be hoped that, in respect to insurance legislation, it may prove a true one, —that this legislation may be the pioneer of more just and liberal dealing on the part of legislators throughout the land. So mote it be.

The above notice of the new insurance law of Maine, by the editor of one of the most influential insurance journals of the country, shows in some degree in what estimation the labors of our legislators are held abroad.

The delightful coolness of the editor of the Chronicle, however, in appropriating to himself the honors belonging to others is particularly refreshing. So far from "the first alarm" having been sounded by him, the general plan of the legislation was arranged by the underwri

A New Railroad Project.

Col. John H. George at a meeting in Concord, N. H., on the 19th of February last, said "there is no place throughout the length and breadth of this country, which can maintain its position as a business point, without a railroad," and he proceeded to urge the multiplication of lines converging to certain central points, and the building of connecting links between sections of the country having commercial affinities not fully developed by existing railroads.

The evident purpose of his speech was to reconcile the people of Concord to the plan for consolidating the lines between Ogdensburg and Boston, but he threw in some kind suggestions, in the way of encouragement to the friends of the Concord and Rochester Railroads.

In this connection we were looking the other day, at some plans and papers of another railroad proposed in New Hampshire, or mainly in New Hampshire, of some interest to the people of Maine,—"the Newburyport and Exeter Railroad" for which charters have been granted in New Hampshire and Massachusetts, and measures adopted for its construction.

From Boston to Exeter over the Boston and Maine railroad, the distance is 50 miles; from Boston to Newburyport by the Eastern railroad, the distance is 36 miles. It is now proposed to run a line from Salisbury, Southampton and Kensington, a distance of 17 miles, to Exeter, giving a new and independent route into Boston by the Eastern railroad, in a distance of 53 miles. It is also proposed to extend this line northwest to Epping Station, on the line of the Portsmouth and Concord railroad some 8 miles, giving a direct connection between tide water at Newburyport and the Merrimac road at Manchester and Concord by the most direct and practicable route.

From Amoskeag Falls or Manchester, to the mouth of the Merrimac at Newburyport, the river has a very circuitous course, running south as far as Lowell,—thence northeast to Haverhill and Salisbury, making a semicircular sweep to avoid the mountains of Chester, Landdown, Hampstead and Derry.

In olden time or in 1808, Boston tapped the Merrimac river with the Middlesex Canal at Chelmsford, in a distance of 27 miles, and completely destroyed the lumber trade of Newburyport. This town grew up into importance at an early date, as the market town of the Merrimac valley, and was distinguished for ship building and foreign trade, before her ambitious rival, Boston intercepted, and drew to herself the lumber, and trade of the Upper Merrimac valley.

The great fire in 1811 was also a severe blow to Newburyport, which with the loss of her lumber trade prevented her from becoming the important city which the Bartletts and Browns anticipated for her in the days of their commercial successes.

Newburyport has been rendered famous as the birth place of very many eminent men. Theophilus Parsons, the greatest legal mind of Massachusetts, was born and raised in Newburyport, as was also Judge Jackson, eminent in his day in the department of law, as was his brother James at the head of the medical profession in Massachusetts, and of Patrick T. Jackson the real founder of Lowell and projector of the Lowell railroad. The renowned Jacob Perkins, and that equally remarkable man Caleb Cushing is a native of Newburyport, to say nothing of Lord Timothy Dexter, and the home and grave of Whitefield are there, which the sons of Newburyport look upon with reverence and affection.

In 1790 Newburyport had a population of 4,837, while that of Boston was only 18,038, and but for the introduction of canals and railroads, as we have reason to believe, Newburyport would have maintained at this time the same relative importance toward Boston.

A new start has recently been given to Newburyport from the movements of the people of Exeter to get a line of railroad to the sea-board and to Boston independent of the Boston and Maine railroad.

It is much to expect that a direct line of railroad from Newburyport to Manchester and Concord will restore to Newburyport her former importance, but there is every reason to believe that a direct line into the interior connecting the rich towns of Salisbury, Amesbury in Massachusetts, and Southampton, Kensington, Exeter and the interior towns in New Hampshire by a shorter line than any other, will make Newburyport the chiefest shipping port for hay, lumber and other bulky products upon the route. At any rate the enterprise in question is a most important one to Newburyport as well as to a large number of towns in New Hampshire, and would greatly relieve the manufacturing industry of Exeter with its fine water-power and numerous manufacturing establishments from burdens which result from the lack of competition,—all being dependant upon a single line of railroad in the hands of strangers.

The distance from Exeter to Boston via Newburyport is said to be about two miles farther than by the Boston and Maine. The town of Exeter has subscribed $50,000 and the city of Newburyport has subscribed $75,000 to the new line of road between Newburyport and Epping. It is proposed to use the road already built as far as Amesbury. The distance from Amesbury to Epping is 16 miles. The Portland, Rochester and Nashua Railroad Company is interested in this new enterprise, as passengers along on this route will have improved facilities at Epping to reach localities on the line of the Eastern railroad, also, a nearer route to Boston is secured via Exeter, over the Boston and Maine. *

Letter from Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 2, 1870.

ATTACK ON THE "WAYS AND MEANS" COMMITTEE.

It must be confessed that the proposition made by Mr. Judd on Saturday last was,—putting aside all considerations of its merits or demerits,—a remarkable example of what is tersely if not elegantly styled "cheek." It was cool to the last degree. Its author ought to have carefully canvassed the House before venturing to take a vote on what implied not simply a want of confidence, in the British Parliamentary sense, in those who were leading the business of the session, but also surrendered the leadership into the hands of the mover. Mr. Judd's motion involved three things:

1st, Disapproval of the measures proposed by the leading business committee, and therefore of the general financial policy of the administration, which is known to in the main accord with the views embodied in the bill now under consideration, and others in charge of the same committee. In that respect it intended to be and would have been, if successful, a triumph of the "revenue reformers"—so called.

2d, A complete overslaughing of all special orders now on that calendar, which would have enclosed the navy appropriations with those for the restoration of American shipping, the internal revenue and some other measures.

3d, It would have left Mr. Judd master of of the situation,—a position which, to tell the sober truth, he has not earned by either activity or ability displayed in behalf of the views his compromise proposition looked to sustaining. If any man had the right to lead the self-styled "revenue reformers," among western Republicans, it is Mr. Allison of Iowa, not Mr. Judd of Chicago.

Of course the motion of the latter gentleman is generally understood. It was to lay aside all special orders and proceed to the general calendar, which would in a short time have brought up the brief but comprehensive substitutes for both the tariff and internal revenue bills, which he presented some days since. That bill reduced certain duties one-third, one-fifth and one-tenth, left the free list as it stands, or as is proposed by the pending measure (I cannot remember accurately and have not got Mr. Judd's bill by me) and then it made a sweeping modification of internal taxation. Now I am not discussing the merits of the plan, but only illustrating how "vaulting ambition o'erleaps itself" to be flattened out completely by a crushing negative vote. Mr. Judd's bill recommended itself to many by its simplicity and directness, and had he been content to wait a favorable moment, and not like the greedy boy who got his hand so full of figs that he could not get it out of the narrow-mouthed jar, and would not let go, he might have had the credit of shaping a measure acceptable to the combined votes of Democratic and Republican "reformers," and by them voted in. But he wanted all or none. The greedy boy got "nary fig" at last, had a good cry and bruised his hand for his pains.

DEMOCRATIC TACTICS.

The protectionists are elated at the victory of Saturday, unduly as it seems to me. The defeat of Mr. Judd's motion has, by indirection of course, aided the pending tariff's chances, but it by no means insures that it will pass. What Saturday's vote means is that that the House is not willing to vote a "want of confidence" in its present and accepted parliamentary leaders. Cool heads see this limitation. Others notice too that the Democrats generally voted on the division against the pending motion. They of course took good care to vote against a call of the ayes and noes, thus preventing themselves going on record.

The Democrats can almost be said to hold a balance of power in this discussion. As usual with them since they became so helpless a minority, their legislative tactics savor of demagoguism. Of course they are free traders,—some in a broader sense than others. But very few Republicans will own any such nomenclature. They, where they differ with the majority of their party, do so as in favor of revenue tariff primarily and protection incidentally or secondarily. The Democrats seek partly advantage, so they desire chiefly to speak for buncombe and delay, and hinder if possible the majority from passing any measures calculated to reduce taxation—the internal imposts especially. Accomplishing this, how long and lustily will they orate next fall over the people's burden. Little Sunset will give us "Shoo Fly" minstrelsy on this tune, with many variations peculiar to himself. Mr. Brooks will roar him "as gently as any suckling dove" from the top of that peddler's wagon on which he proposes to perambulate. It is amusing how careful the Democrats are in avoiding votes that will make up a record, while at the same time they are evidently working to drive deeper that wedge of "revenue reform," the thin end of which is inserted, beleiving thereby they will divide their great enemy into opposing ranks.

Mr. Cox's played an adroit part in this game on Saturday. He got over among the Republicans themselves and made one of his keenest, most adroit and ironical speeches too, in support of the "ways and means"—against Mr. Judd's attempt to control, while denouncing the tariff and at the same time giving the cue to those of his own party, who, less adroit than himself, might have tumbled headlong into a trap.

I am inclined decidedly to think that Gen. Schenck's torbearance and latitude of debate has gone beyond reasonable limits. The favorable vote of the House Saturday ought to be improved to draw in the views and push forward the measure more rapidly which now consumes a large a portion of the session.

AN EFFECTIVE DEBATE.

That of Saturday was a satisfactory one to a critic—at least it ought to have been, unless the critic is like the editor of the Nation, "Gath" of the Chicago Tribune or Donn Piatt of the Cincinnati Commercial, so hypercritical, that he is nothing unless critical and still when critical is—nothing! The motion was unexpected. Mr. Judd made a terse little speech in its support. Gen. Schenck's reply was a model of its kind. The chairman of the "Ways and Means" is to my notion the best thinker "on his legs" in either branch of Congress, more especially in matters of general business. The wine of life with him is getting a little soured, and there is more than the natural impatience of a busy, bruyque man, when bad erd by the smaller dogs in the pits so he bits out square and puts his fangs in well. I don't mean to be disrespectful—but as Gen. Schenck is often compared to a growling mastiff, I may fairly refer to his colleagues among he dogs as being "of high and low degree" who like to "bark and bite." His pungent epigram declaring that the epitaph of the tariff bill, if it was killed, it would be "nibbled to death by pismires," was received with a perfect presentation of the process of attack, and therefore hailed with roars of laughter.—Schenck's adroit management of parliamentary force was exhibited in obtaining the floor, and while cautioning Mr. Judd, preventing him getting in a word of reply. Logan, who has been considered as showing more ability this session than ever before, proved himself no match for his equally sagacious, more cool and thicker-skinned confrere,—Chairman Schenck. Gen. Logan is like the donkey running a race—he sees a bunch of edibles just ahead, and so he stretches his head out for a nibble and puts his best foot foremost to win the prize. Like John Gilpin he carries weight and rides a race. It is the Illinois Senatorship for which he is in training. Now I am willing to concede that he improves in his paces and will probably get the prize. On the whole I should be glad of his success; but he must learn to toughen his mental hide, and not believe that he is personally assailed at every turn. General Schenck's nibbling characterization was understood by all but Logan, who chose to regard it as applied to individuals. He assailed Schenck in the highest and doughtiest tone of injured virtue—lance in rest—and was most cleverly laid hors du combat.

The debate was good. The vote also, and it is to be hoped the committee will not abuse the indulgence extended, but compel the House to work closely until the tariff is acted on. OBSERVER.

Maine Episcopal Board of Missions.

WISCASSET, May 3, 1870.

To the Editor of the Press:

A very interesting session of the Episcopal Board of Missions is now in progress in this village. A good delegation of clergymen are present, and all the exercises promise to be of a most pleasing character. The introductory service was held in the neat little church of St. Philip, and we are pleased to see the attendance so large. Evening prayer was said by Rev. Mr. Lewis of Dexter and Rev. Mr. Webster of Milford. The lessons were read by Rev. L. K. Storrs of Hallowell. The singing was rendered in a spirited manner by a choir of young ladies, assisted by the masters. The evening sermon was delivered by the Bishop, and the thoughts presented were very suitable to candidates for confirmation. The text was taken from Philippians, iii.:20—"For our conversation is in heaven." The leading points were somewhat as follows: First, the Bishop spoke of the many allurements there are to draw us from the paths of rectitude, and the Christian also is often attracted by them; but we can guard against them by an habitual contemplation of our privileges and rewards. Finally- we must ever be watchful, and remember the glorious destiny that awaits the faithful in the mansions of the Father's house. At the close of the serm on the rite of confirmation was administered to two persons.

The interior of St. Philip's is very churchly in appearance, and the appellations given to the Saviour are handsomely frescoed over each window. The organ has its proper place on the right of the chancel. JUNIUS.

News by the Latest Mails.

It is reported that Comery, arrested in Boston for placing obstructions on the track of the Boston, Hartford and Erie railroad, has been discharged, no one appearing against him.

Dr. Wilcox, the celebrated organist of Boston, has been invited to become organist at St. Stephen's church in New York.

Seventeen persons were arrested at Fresh Pond, Cambridge, preparing to witness a fight between a dog and bear.

The President has granted Red Cloud and other Sioux chiefs permission to visit Washington.

The London Times says the most remarkable thing about the French plot is its opportunities for official electioneering.

Several gend d'armes were injured during the riot at St. Quentin Tuesday, but so far as known no citizens were hurt. Many arrests were made of persons believed to be implicated in the plot against the Emperor.

The construction of the Concord and Claremont railroad from Bradford has been let in sections to Bonnallie, Reed, Parker & Co., Lewiston; Patrick Maney & Son, Lewiston; Floyd & Moore, Portland; Wilkins & Ferry, West Gloucester, Mass.; W. W. Holmes, Webster, Mass. The work is to be commenced immediately.

It is reported that the London Sun, an evening paper, liberal in politics, and advocating free trade, has been purchased by the Marquis of Bute, and that it will hereafter be issued as a daily Catholic organ.

Speaker Blaine has procured the insertion in the River and Harbor bill, now pending before the Committee on Commerce, of an appropriation of $15,000 for deepening the channel of the Kennebec above Hallowell, and $10,000 for improving the navigation of the narrow passage opposite the city of Bath. The River and Harbor bill will be the smallest in amount that has been reported for several years.

INTERNAL REVENUE.—The assessments for the year 1870 (annual list) for this (1st) collection district amount to $110,351.35. This list is made up of income returns for 1869 and special taxes (commonly called licenses) for the year commencing May 1, 1870. The annual list for 1869 amounted to $90,802.46.

The assessment for this year is divided among the several divisions, as follows:—Division No. 1, consisting of Biddeford, Kennebunk, Kennebunkport, Wells, Kittery, York and Elliot, $7,269.65; Division No. 3, consisting of Alfred, Acton, Shapleigh, Newfield, Sanford, Lebanon, North Berwick, South Berwick and Berwick, $2,497.50; Division No. 4, consisting of Saco, Dayton, Lyman and Waterborough, $3,706.65; Division No. 5, consisting of Buxton, Hollis, Limerick, Limington, Cornish and Parsonsfield, $1,641; Division No. 6, (part of Portland E. S. Marshall, Assistant,) $26,734.51; Division No. 7, (part of Portland, J. L. Rackleff, Assistant,) $54,231.86; Division No. 8, consisting of Westbrook, Gorham, Windham, Cape Elizabeth, Cumberland and Scarborough, $6,019.25; Division No. 9, consisting of Bridgton, Harrison, Otisfield, Naples, Sebago, Baldwin, Standish, Casco, Raymond and Gray, $2,303.43; Division No. 11, consisting of Freeport, Brunswick, Yarmouth, North Yarmouth, Pownal, New Gloucester and Harpswell, $5,947.50. By counties, York pays $15,114.80; Cumberland pays $95,236.55, of which sum $80,966.37 is assessed in the city of Portland.

The annual list of Internal Revenue assessments in the 4th (Bangor) district amount to $21,000—a small gain over last year.

A statement was recently going the rounds of the papers to the effect that the Collector of Internal Revenue in the 3d (Augusta) district had collected during the quarter ending March 31, 1870, the sum of $23,105.28; that the amount of revenue uncollected was $342.10, of which sum $143.67 is uncollectable, leaving the small sum of $198.43 to be collected.

We think Collector Rollins, in this district, can make a better exhibit than that. During the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1869, he has collected $244,908 67. Of the taxes assessed from that day but $59.18 have been found uncollectable. Of this small amount $35.01 was assessed in July and $24.17 in August, and every cent of tax assessed since then and prior to this month has been collected and deposited to the credit of the Treasurer of the United States. If any Collector can make a better showing than that we should like to hear from him.

State News.

ANDROSCOGGIN COUNTY.

A few days since, Mrs. William Dingley, of Auburn sustained a compound fracture of the wrist by an accident on the highway.

The Lewiston Journal says Mr. Parker S. Stevens of Auburn, had a boiled egg for breakfast a few mornings since. Striking the shell to cut it open, he discovered after opening the egg that there was another small egg inside of it, fully formed with a good shell. The outer egg was about the size of a turkey's egg and the inner egg a little larger than a robin's egg.

Lewiston has voted to charge circuses $50, for every twenty-four hours, while menageries can exhibit their wonders at $10 per day; theatres, $8; personal agility and minstrelsy, $6; puppet shows and concerts, $6; feats of balancing, wire dancing, sleight of hand or legerdemain, $6; images, pageantry, panoramas, art gallery, statuary, or oil paintings, $6; novel lectures, or performances of any other than those named, $6.

A cow owned by Dr. W. R. Wright of Durham gave birth to a calf a few weeks since which had two distinct perfectly formed heads, stomach and lungs single, but two passages to each, the hinder parts double with the exception that one pair of the legs were but slightly developed and the others not well formed. It was a singular freak of nature. The cow has before had several calves which were perfectly formed.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

Saturday evening a boat containing two persons was capsized near Staples' Point in Freeport, and Mr. Joshua Soule, hearing the cries for help, put off in his boat and rescued one of the men, who was clinging to the bottom of the boat, but the other man, named Johnson, was drowned. His body washed ashore the next morning.

KENNEBEC COUNTY.

Deacon Isaac Snow, an old and highly respected citizen of Hallowell, was stricken down by paralysis on Sunday.

The Lewiston Journal says that a few days since, there was a strange land slide near Harris' Hill in New Gloucester. A portion of the highway, about sixty feet long, suddenly fell in to the depth of twenty-five feet, rendering it necessary to re-locate the road in that vicinity. The probability is that the action of subterranean waters undermined this road. Large numbers of people are visiting this spot.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

The Bath Times says that one day last week a son of Mr. Southard of Wiscasset, fell from a beam in the barn striking upon a tub that was used for watering the cattle standing on the floor. So severe was the blow that his skull was badly fractured, and his nose and arm were both broken besides other injuries.—The lad lived but five days after the injury.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY.

The mean temperature of April, according to observations taken at the State College of Agriculture at Orono, was 43 51, being four degrees warmer than the same month in 1869.

The Bangor police made four seizures Tuesday.

City Marshall Wingate of Bangor was knocked down in the street by a horse on Tuesday, but his injuries are not serious.

PISCATAQUIS COUNTY.

SAGADAHOC COUNTY.

The Kennebec Journal says the railroad bridge over Cathance river, between Bowdoinham and Topsham, which was burned down on Saturday afternoon, was rebuilt in twenty-five hours after work was begun upon it. The bridge is about one hundred feet long and some seventy feet high. The passenger trains were only a little delayed after the fire and before the new bridge was built. Freight trains were hardly delayed at all.

The Free Will Baptist Society of Richmond are engaged in renovating their meeting house. Among other improvements their vestry is to be enlarged and remodelled.

A horse belonging to a Mr. Sawyer of Bangor, ran away in Richmond last Saturday, badly smashing the carriage and breaking his leg in such a manner as to be found necessary to kill him. He was a fine horse, and was valued at $400.

YORK COUNTY.

The underbrush at the side of the P. S. & P. railroad caught fire Tuesday morning, near Old Orchard crossing, and in the afternoon near Milliken's crossing, Saco. The land of Capt. Horatio Hight of Scarboro, and Ephraim Harmon, Benj. and Parker Milliken and others of Saco was burnt over, but the damage is not yet ascertained. As far as can be seen from the road it is but slight.

A boy named Charles Perkins, five years old, son of Mr. Charles Perkins, who lived in Charlestown, Mass., has been missing since about five o'clock last Saturday afternoon. All search has been fruitless, and the parents could form no idea as to the child's whereabouts until Monday morning, when they learned that a lady, in company with another inquired of a person in that vicinity, on Saturday afternoon, the residence of Mr. Perkins. The person, a neighbor, asked if she meant the Mr. Perkins who had a little boy, and she replied, "Yes, that is the one," and the two went in the direction pointed out to them. The parents suspect that this woman was the child's aunt, who lives in Rockport, Me., and that she took him away with her. Mr. Perkins started for Rockport on Monday to satisfy himself if his suspicions were well founded.

THE MAINE JOURNAL OF EDUCATION for May, was under the general supervision of Mr. A. J. Blethen of Farmington, the editor for the month. GENTLEMEN NEED NOT READ!

Lady Friends:

You all wear hats. You like nice stylish hats. You won't have any others, but you want to buy them cheap. Now to meet your wants, I have been to New York and bought quantities of the best French Flowers, at the prices of common American; have bought nice ribbons so I can sell them, O, how low! and I make my own hats cheaper than any man can buy them.

Come and see my styles, and I'll sell you a hat or a bonnet at a price that will surprise you. I almost forgot to tell you that I have the most accomplished Milliners, prepared to take your orders and execute your wishes.

I am the Ladies' most ob't servant,

PORTLAND MECHANIC BLUES.—The Blues turned out yesterday afternoon for May parade and inspection, in their new uniforms, and accompanied by a select number of pieces of music, consisting of clarionet, cornet, trombone, fife, two tenor drums and bass drum, which made excellent marching music. The company was commanded by Capt. Parker, and turned out 60 man, presenting a brilliant appearance. The new uniforms are very becoming and very showy, and we congratulate the Blues upon the change. There were 88 men mustered in, and all of them would have appeared on parade if the new uniforms had all been completed in time.

After marching up to the Arsenal grounds the company were inspected most thoroughly by Gen. J. M. Brown, and at the conclusion of the inspection the men were put through a severe drill by the officers, followed by the sergeants.

At the conclusion of the drill the company were invited into the Arsenal by their officers, who had provided an excellent cold collation, gotten up by Alexander Bell in first rate style. Among the distinguished guests who had been present at the inspection and drill and partook of the collation were His Honor Mayor Kingsbury, Gen. J. M. Brown, City Marshal Clark, Col. T. A. Roberts and Adjt. C. W. Roberts.

After full justice had been done to the viands, Capt. Parker called the company to order, and turning to Mayor Kingsbury, said:

Mr. Mayor,—The Portland Mechanic Blues was the first company of militia organized in this State. We have received many favors from the Governor, from the military, from the citizens and from the City Government. We find ourselves stationed in this city, under your immediate command, and when you call upon us we promise to obey.

Mayor Kingsbury replied as follows:

Officers and members of the Mechanic Blues:—One of the numerous defects in my education is a lack of knowledge of military science. When I was a young man it had become fashionable to sneer at the citizen soldiery, and the annual trainings of the militia was the occasion, not of improvement in an important branch of public education, but of sarcasm and burlesque. But the late rebellion has taught the nation a lesson which it will be slow to forget. The controversy was precipitated upon us suddenly and without preparation. We took our soldiers from the field, the work-shop and the counting-room, uneducated even in the primary rules of war. True, they fought bravely and in the end successfully; but the education our armies acquired was at the cost of many defeats and the loss of thousands of lives. Whatever victory attended our efforts courage and educated skill combined largely in winning it. Victories are not chance results. Grant and Sheridan, Sherman and Thomas, whose names have become immortal are glorious illustrations of what military education will accomplish when united to common sense and exalted patriotism.

Henceforward the old and sneered-at truism, "in time of peace prepare for war" will I trust become a recognized fact and the science of war become a part of the education of our young men. Uneducated as I have confessed myself to be in military tactics, yet gentlemen I must confess my admiration at what it has been my pleasure to witness this afternoon. It is obvious that the renown of this ancient military organization for discipline and skill is not only well sustained but will be largely increased. As a citizen of Portland I feel justly proud of this company.

The Mayor's speech was received with nine cheers.

Col. Roberts then called on Gen. John M. Brown. Gen. Brown replied that it would be improper for him to say that he felt like a stranger to the company. He had known the officers and men since its organization, and they always appeared well. He should so report to the Governor in regard to the inspection and drill of this day. He then spoke of the Governor's theory in regard to the companies that had been mustered it; that they were skeleton regiments, each man to be so perfected in the details of the profession that he could immediately upon occasion take command as an officer. He thought this the true democratic principle in military affairs. It was with this idea in mind that he looked with particular pleasure on the drill of the non-commissioned officers. He could not suggest an improvement in the new uniform, and would like to see it adopted by the State. He would say on the part of the Governor that they had appeared well and that everything was to their credit. Cheers were given for Gen. Brown.

Marshal Clark on being called upon said he did not think that he ought to speak, because if he should it would only be to flatter them, and as he was a member of the company it would be flattering himself.

Col. Roberts and Adjutant Roberts made brief and complimentary remarks. The company then went through with dress parade, and then marched to their armory, escorting home His Honor Mayor Kingsbury and paying a marching salute to Col. Roberts at his residence on Congress Place.

FLORAL EXHIBIRION.—The annual floral exhibition of the Portland Horticultural Society opened at the Reception Room in the City Building yesterday afternoon. The display of plants and flowers was large and diverse, although there was not the usual number of exhibitors, from the fact that many of the gardeners had cut all their flowers for Easter and for market.

The following were the principal exhibitors: Mr. C. F. Bryant of Woodford's Corner, displayed two orange trees, one with fruit nearly ripe, and the other well covered with blossoms and green fruit. There were also quite a variety of geraniums, and a superb Baltimore bell rose in full bloom. Mr. Bryant displayed also two splendid bouquets. Mr. Joseph Dirwanger exhibited a variety of geraniums of new species, including the "Jennie Shepherd," "General Grant" and "Gertrude de Cobnoy." There was also a fine display of callas, Scotch and German heather, azalias of all hues, deutschia and others. Mr. Albert Dirwanger displayed a large variety of verbenas, pelargoniums, auriculas and petunias. His display was very fine, especially of verbenas, which included almost every variety. On the table occupied by Capt. Coyle's gardiner, was a cactus in full bloom, several varieties of chrysanthemums and hydrangeas. Mr. P. Duffie, gardiner to Hon. J. B. Brown gave a most elaborate display. There were several kinds of saxafrage, calceolaria, deutschia, several kinds, camelia japonicas, azalias in profusion, cacti, bell flowers, pelargoniums, verbenas, cinerarias and lantana.

There was also a rich display of parlor and hand bouquets. Mabel and Frank Elwell of Westbrook displayed a bouquet of wild flowers composed of Mayflowers, hepaticas, anemone, wild oats, dog-tooth violets and partridge berries. Mrs. A. P. Morgan exhibited a very handsome basket of flowers containing ten varieties.

The exhibition of this spring showed better varieties and better flowered than the one of a year ago.

Brief Jottings.

A morning passenger train leaves Biddeford for Portland on the P. S. & P. R. R. at 7 1-2 o'clock.

In our account of the Portland Star Match Factory the other day we inadvertently forget to mention that the mason work, which is a splendid piece of work, was executed by Messrs. E. S. Foss and John Snow.

Capt. Freeman succeeds Capt. Webster at this port in command of the Mahoning, and Capt. Webster takes command of the Miami at Wilmington, Del.

At a meeting of the Mayor and Board of Aldermen held yesterday forenoon, Messrs. William Curtis, Rensellaer Cram and Jeremiah Howe were drawn as traverse jurors for the Superior Court. Messrs. Rensellaer Greely, Joseph Bradford, Elijah Adams, 2d, and Chas. B. Nash were drawn on Tuesday afternoon.

The fifty-third anniversary of the Second Parish Sabbath School will be celebrated at the vestry of that church next Sunday evening.

Yesterday morning we had a slight shower, after which the weather was extremely sultry for the season, the thermometer marking 72 at noon. About 3 o'clock the clouds began to gather, threatening a thunder storm, but they proved to be wind clouds, raising the dust in clouds. About 4 o'clock the wind got round to the N. E. and the thermometer dropped to 58°.

We were pained to be informed yesterday that a private letter had just been received in this city stating that Capt. Look died at Gibraltar on the 12th of April from mortification having set in.

Mr. William Baldwin, of the firm of Baldwin, Hinds & Co., contractors on the P. & O. R. R., gave a nice collation on the line of the road, near Vaughan's bridge, yesterday afternoon, to their men, they having completed a very difficult cut on the road in a very short time. A platform was erected, remarks made by the officers of the road and a grand good time enjoyed by all hands.

Several sales and transfers of real estate have taken place lately.

Three young girls, the oldest 16 years of age, were arrested yesterday by the police for using obscene language on the street.

ACCIDENT—Another boy shot.—For some time past the residents in the vicinity of Woodford's Corner have been very much annoyed by dogs that would attack their fowls and kill them simply from their spirit of mischief. On Tuesday last Mr. Joseph Batchelder who lives near the railroad station was so unfortunate as to lose a couple of ducks, and last Wednesday night he saw a dog rush into his yard and seize another. It was but the work of a moment for him to seize his gun, which was double barrelled, and, taking aim, to pull the trigger. The gun missed fire and he immediately pulled the other trigger, and just as the second barrel exploded the first did likewise. The consequence was, his gun was thrown up a little, sufficiently, however, to send the charge away across the road from the garden and some of the fine shot struck a little boy by the name of Alden. A doctor was immediately called, who, to Mr. Batchelder's great relief, informed him that nothing serious had been done and picked out the shot.

JUNIOR ASSOCIATION BASE BALL CLUB.—The third meeting of the Junior Base Ball Association was held in Portland yesterday. The following Clubs were represented: North Star of Portland, Messrs. Day and Leighton; Resolute of Portland, Messrs. St. John and Chaffin; Oriental B. B. C., Messrs. Henry and Fling; Dirigo of Augusta, Messrs. Morse and Scruton. President Hawes being absent, Vice President Morse took the Chair. The following Clubs were admitted: "Oriental" of Portland, "Dirigo" of Biddeford, "Passagassawaukeag" of Belfast, "Eureka" of Riverside.

The next in the order of business was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The following were elected, viz: President, Charles R. Chaffin; Vice President, A. B. Leighton; 21 Vice President, F. H. Scruton; Rec. Secretary and Cor. Secretary, J. F. Day.

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE.—The third meeting of the champions of the suffrage movement in this city was attended by about twenty persons, about half of them being females. Mr. Neal occupied the whole evening in an elaborate argument to prove the right and expediency of woman's voting. He believes the right of suffrage is a natural right, and that there is no principle which should exclude women from its exercise more than men. The word used throughout our Constitution to express the class in whom lies the right of election of the officers of the Government is "people," and this word includes women as well as men. Mr. Neal's speech was continued till 9 o'clock, but it was chiefly a reiteration of his former arguments.

DEATH OF MR. C. H. BREED.—The many friends of Mr. C. H. Breed, the senior partner in the firm of C. H. Breed [& Co., boot and shoe dealers of this city will be pained to hear of his death which occurred in Boston yesterday morning from consumption. He was on his way to Michigan, where he was going with the hope of improving his health and only succeeded in getting as far as Boston. He was in the store in this city on Saturday. He was a man universally respected and leaves a wife and one child. He is to be buried in Lynn.

MR. AUGUSTUS JOHNSON, a well known and respectable citizen, and recently Collector of Taxes in the town of Gorham, who has been unwell for several weeks with a serious difficulty of the stomach, was not expected yesterday to live but a few hours.

G. T. R. R.—The attention of tourists is called to the advertisement of the excursion trains on the Grand Trunk railroad for 1870.—By this it will be seen that the fare to Montreal and return from Portland will be only $15, and to points west a like reduction will be made.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Our Kennebunk correspondent writes us that Mr. C. W. Spear, travelling solicitor for the sale of Nathan Wood's medicines, put up his team with Mr. Wm. M. Bryant at Kennebunk Lower Village Saturday afternoon, complaining of ill-health, but growing worse he attempted Monday morning to go to Portland, and after proceeding a short distance returned, unable to get off his cart alone. He rapidly failed, and died Tuesday eve. He has been ill several times this spring, this last attack appearing to be a disease of the brain. Mr. Spear leaves a widow and two children in Standish.

DEATH OF D. W. MILLETT.—Mr. D. W. Millett, an old citizen, and well known as a bill collector and broker, died in this city yesterday, after a long period of ill-health. His age was 69 years 9 months. Mr. Millett was a cripple all his life, but a very energetic man in his business affairs and acquired a competency.

COLBY UNIVERSITY ALUMNI FESTIVAL.—A reunion of the Alumni of Colby University, formerly Waterville College, took place at Young's Hotel last evening. After an hour spent in conversation, the company sat down to dinner, Hon. Henry W. Paine presiding. A committee of five was appointed to decide upon a plan of reorganization, and recommended the appointment of an Executive Committee of five and a permanent Secretary, to whom shall be entrusted the duty of planning an organization, to report at the next meeting. The recommendations were adopted, and the Hon. Henry W. Paine, and Messrs. A. H. Briggs, Rev. William Lawson, D. D., D. F. Crane and L. Dunton were appointed as the committee, and Rev. Dr. O. S. Stearns, Secretary.—Boston Post.

"THE MODEL BAKER" offered to the public by Mr. George H. Merriam is one of the most successful and valuable inventions of the year. To cook steak or other meats, you have merely to put the food in the baker, with nothing else, cover it up and allow it to remain without further care till it is done. The great advantage of the baker is that all the juices of the meat are preserved. We understand that Mr. Merriam will soon have a large number in the market to meet the immense demand for them, that spring up wherever they have been tested.

Central Railroad of Iowa.

Western railroad building is going on rapidly. The CENTRAL RAILROAD OF IOWA is one of the most prominent and promising of these enterprises, and many of our leading bankers and financiers are associated in the work, such as J. COOKE & Co., E. W. CLARKE & Co., J. EDGAR THOMPSON, Col. T. A. SCOTT, etc. A large force has now been put at work upon the line; contracts for eight thousand tons of extra quality iron have been made, and five hundred tons are being forwarded per week. With favorable weather, the whole line is expected to be completed this season. As this road is built in the interest of the great system of Northern and Northwest roads now centuring at St. Paul, to become the outlet of their entire Southern traffic, and as it runs through the finest portions of Iowa, its FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS may well be recommended with confidence. Many holders of Governments are taking advantage of the recent advance to sell their securities and re-invest in IOWA CENTRAL BONDS. D & W

Lime Rock Bank Robbed.

THE ROBBERS PURS D.

An ex-Policeman Arrested.

[Special Dispatch by International Line.]

ROCKLAND, May 4.—At an early hour this morning a bold and successful robbery of the Lime Rock bank in this city took place; entrance to the vault being effected through the brick wall between it and the Western Union Telegraph office,—the same manner as when the unsuccessful attempt was made upon the safe last September. Having got into the vault, the principal safe was charged with powder, which by some means was got in around the door, though it was difficult to see how it could have been done, and then exploded. The upper socket by which the hinge turned was broken entirely out; the door was cracked, and the door was blown clean from the safe. The brick walls of the vault were much shaken and cracked. The outside iron door of the vault opening into the banking room was blown open, while the inside one, being more strongly fastened, remained shut. The plaster overhead in the telegraph office, and also in the store of Fogler & Hastings, was shaken down. The concussion must have been heavy, though the safe does not look as if any great amount of powder was burnt in it. The explosion took place about half-past three o'clock, the door being blown out. There was no obstacle in the way of the burglars, and they proceeded to secure their booty. This they did, it may be supposed, hastily. They left behind quite a little pile of bank bills and some valuable packages.

The losses as nearly as can be ascertained are as follows: The bank's loss is about eleven hundred dollars ($1100); special deposits, twenty-two thousand four hundred dollars ($22,400); collateral securities, bonds, two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500); total, $26,000. Of the above amount about $1500 is in Rockland City bonds, on which payment will be stopped. The actual loss will therefore be about $20,000. This is the most that will be available to the burglars. Its notes and some six or seven thousand dollars in cash besides were not in the exploded safe, and are secure.

The burglars were undoubtedly seen by Mr. Gilman Lovejoy hiding a heavy sledge and pair of tongs under the old school house, corner of Lime Rock and Union streets. There were four or six in the party. We hear the number differently stated.

At noon to-day (Wednesday) Addison R. Keazer, until recently on the police of this city, was arrested on suspicion of having been engaged in the robbery, and is now in custody.

LATER.—5 o'clock P. M.—The ex-policeman has confessed, and they have since arrested Alden Litchfield, a merchant here, and a man from New York who was secreted in Litchfield's house; also one in Belfast by the name of Graves; and one left for Portland. There are two more who have not yet been arrested. The ex-policeman says that he agreed to meet the two others in the Warren woods to-night. A crowd have gone with him to meet them.
LIME ROCK.

[To the Associated Press.]

Addison F. Keizer, formerly on our police force, Alden Litchfield, a trader in this city, and Joshua Adams, a New York cracksman, have been arrested for complicity in the robbery. Adams was arrested at Litchfield's house, where he was in hiding. John Graves, Jr., of this city, another of the gang, has been arrested in Belfast, and a fifth confederate took the steamer for Portland, where the officers were telegraphed to be on the lookout for him. Keizer has given information to the officers, upon which they have proceeded. Two others, New York cracksmen, were engaged in the robbery, and one of whom is Charles H. Brooks. One of these men was taken out of the city in a wagon by Keizer and the other by one Gleason. The stolen property on Keizer's statement was buried in the woods in a canvas bag. Brooks and the confederate are still at large, but it is hoped they will be taken and the property recovered to-night. It is probable one or two other parties are implicated in the affair. The amount of the special deposits stolen was $22,400.

[On the arrival of the Rockland boat at Portland Wednesday afternoon she was searched by the police, but no person answering the description of the fugitive was discovered.—ED. PRESS.]

Forty-Sixth Session of the Maine Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[Special dispatch by International Line.]

AUGUSTA, May 4, 1870.

Yesterday brought to this city a large number of clergymen connected with this conference, who found the good people of Augusta ready to welcome them to their homes.

Among the arrivals we notice Bishop M. Simpson, who is to preside at this session Rev. Geo. Pratt and E. B. Fletcher of the East Maine Conference, "Camp Meeting" John Allen and an unusually large number of visitors.

The day was a busy one with the various committees of examination and those participating in the usual exercises of class-day.

The preparatory prayer meeting in the evening was very fully attended. It was conducted by Rev. J. Cobb and was a season of great power. The spirit manifested by those present indicates that the zeal of the ministry has not abated since their last annual meeting, but that they come together again after the conflicts and toils of the year in the enjoyment of much of the favor of God.

WEDNESDAY—FIRST DAY.

The conference assembled promptly at nine o'clock, Bishop Simpson presiding. The 52d chapter of Isaiah was read, the 707th hymn sung and fervent prayers were offered by B. Lufkin and E. Robinson.

At the conclusion of these introductory exercises, the Bishop very feelingly addressed the conference preparatory to the administration of the sacrament of which 164 partook.

The Roll of Conference was then called and 57 member responded to their names.

P. Jaques was elected Secretary, A. S. Ladd Assistant Secretary and K. Atkinson Statistical Secretary.

A. W. Pottle was appointed Conference Cashier.

The business sessions of the Conference are to commence each morning at 9 o'clock and cease at 12 o'clock. Prayer meetings each morning at 5 and 8 o'clock. Friday was fixed upon as the time of taking the vote on Lay Delegation. The Standing Committees were appointed. An interesting communication was presented to the Conference from Dr. Stephen Vail, U. S. Consul at Baharal, whose relation was continued. A communication from the Wesleyian University was referred to the Committee on Education. The Secretaries O. M. Cousins were appointed Committee on the publication of Minutes. Took up the 4th question, "Who are the Deacons?" The characters off H. McKenney, W. H. H. Pillsbury, and J. R. Masterman. Passed. Took up the 5th question, "Who have been elected and ordained Elders this year?" The characters of H. Chase, W. H. H. Pillsbury, and J. R. Masterman. Passed, and they were elected to Elder's orders. Took up the 7th question, "Who are Supernumeraries?" The case of R. H. Ford was referred to a Committee consisting of D. B. Randall, and A. Hatch. The relation of T. Hillman was changed to Effective; all others were continued.

The exercises of the afternoon were suspended in order that the members might attend the Sabbath School Convention, now in session at the Baptist Church.

XLIst CONGRESS—Second Session.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The House concurrent resolution for the adjournment of Congress sine die on July 4th was taken up and a motion of Mr. Sumner to lay it on the table was negatived, 15 to 41. The resolution, after discussion, went over till to-morrow.

Mr. Fenton presented a memorial of a number of the largest ship owners in the United States against the granting of the subsidies proposed by what is know as "Lynch's bill."

The bills to aid in the construction of the Oregon branch of the Pacific Railroad and authorizing the Southern Minnesota Railroad to connect with the Northern Pacific Railroad, and resolutions giving condemned ordnance to the McPherson Monument Association, and pay a year's salary to the widow of the late Secretary Rawlins were passed, which completed the calender. Mr. Harlan moved to take up the bill for the sale of the Great and Little Osage Indian reservation and the removal of the said Indians to the Indian territory.

Pending the consideration of the bill the Senate went into executive session and soon afterwards adjourned.

HOUSE.

Mr. Wells, from the Committee on the Decline of American Commerce, reported a bill authorizing mail steamship service monthly from New Orleans to Tampico, Vera Cruz, Coatzolacas, Tabasco, Laguna, Campeche, Sisal, and thence via Havana to New Orleans, the contract to be for ten years with Wm. R. Garrison and others, and not to involve a government expenditure of over $150,000 per annum for the first five years and $100,000 for the next five years. Recommitted.

Mr. Ela of New Hampshire offered a resolution instructing the Secretary of War to cause a survey and estimates to be made for the removal of obstructions to the navigation of the Cocheco river at Dover, New Hampshire.—Adopted.

The House adopted a resolution calling on the Secretary of War for all reports made by General Terry relating to Georgia not already communicated to Congress.

Mr. Beck of Kentucky asked leave to offer a resolution reciting the allegations that General Terry is causing the citizens to be arrested and tried before his military subordinates for alleged violations of the laws of Georgia, refusing to allow them the benefit of habeas corpus, or a trial by jury in the civil courts and requesting the President to state by what authority such things are done.

Mr. Shanks of Indiana and others objected.

Mr. Beck desired to know who objected.

Mr. Shanks—I object.

Mr. Beck—Then I call for the regular order of business and give notice that I will object to everything out of order from now until the 4th of July.

The report of the conference committee on the census bill was agreed to. The civil service bill then came up and Messrs. Finklebury of Missouri and Colt of North Carolina expressed their approval of the general principles of the bill.

Mr. Bingham of Ohio opposed the bill on constitutional and practical grounds. He said it would limit the appointing power of the executive to the will of three commissioners.—Without their consent neither the President, the heads of the departments nor the courts could appoint anybody to office. It created aristocracy to a privileged class in the face of the provision of the constitution that neither the United States nor any State shall confer a title of nobility.

Mr. Maynard of Tennessee argued against the bill as removing the civil service farther away from the control of the people. He would not say the present system was faultless, but denied that the government was any worse served by its officers and clerks than private institutions were.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill and agreed upon certain duties on railroad iron and steel.

Mr. Peters of Maine was opposed to the bill yesterday and more opposed to it to-day. He objected to it because it gave to three commissioners the entire under patronage of the United States and virtually appointed men to office for life.

CONNECTICUT.

MEETING OF THE LEGISLATURE.

NEW HAVEN, May 4.—Thousands at strangers were in the city to-day to witness the inauguration ceremonies. The procession, the finest ever seen in New Haven, and several miles in length, moved through the principal streets, which were crowded on either side by spectators. The Legislature convened this morning at half-past 10 o'clock. John Cotton Smith, of Sharon, called the House to order. Hon. Lafayette Foster was elected Speaker and Edward B. Bennett and B. A. Hough Clerks. In the Senate Edward Harland was elected President pro tem. and John A. Tibbetts Clerk. The Senate voted to take from the Lieutenant Governor the power of appointing committees and to exercise the same itself.

In his message to the Legislature Gov. English recommends a Constitutional Convention to revise the Constitution of the State, and says that this is the more desirous in consequence of the 15th amendment. That amendment, he declares, was ratified by means of chicanery and force, which would properly vitiate any contract between one citizen and another brought by such means. He declares that by the power of appropriate legislation which it gives to Congress, it commits to the absolute control of the General Government the right to vote in every State, and says the mockeries of an election held in the Southern States under the bayonets of the General Government is a sufficient commentary on the liability of the abuse of such a power. He further declares that if the State could constitutionally prevent the deprivation of the right to the manager of her internal concerns in her own way he should not hesitate to recommend it, but he knows of no such way. He censures the course of Congress towards Georgia, and desires a general amnesty for mere political offences.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE IN PARLIAMENT.

LONDON, May 4.—In the House of Commons to-night, Jacob Bright, after presenting a petition for female suffrage, moved to a second reading of the bill removing the disabilities of women with regard to voting. He said that if the bill was adopted there would be but one female to nine male voters. The House divided on the proposition, "Shall the question be now put?" and it was adopted by a vote of 124 ayes against 91 nays. The announcement of the result was received with enthusiastic cheering. The bill was then read the second time.

IRELAND.

DUBLIN, May 4.—A procession of 900 Orangemen while passing through the Catholic quarter of the town of Lurgan, with arms and offensive banners, were attacked by the police and dispersed. The police were obliged to use their swords, but no casualties are reported.

France.

PARIS, May 4.—It is asserted that M. Thiers will issue a manifesto advising Frenchmen to vote no on the plebiscitum. The Emperor's proclamation has been distributed throughout the country and is now in the hands of every voter. The committee in favor of the plebiscitum have issued their last address to the electors, and declaring that they must put aside by a strong vote the irreconcilable minority which resorts in its opposition to the government to all means, even conspiracy, bombs and infernal machines. The manifesto concludes: "You must go to the polls on next Sunday and vote as in 1852, with banners flying and shouting 'Vive Napoleon.' If you desire liberty, order, stability and prosperity, you must vote for the plebiscitum."

OPPOSITION TO THE PAPAL PROGRAMME INCREASING.

ROME, May 4.—The successive diplomatic protests made against the papal programme has powerfully reinforced the numbers and power of the opposition in the Ecumenical Council.

I have recently, introduced the Wilcox Patent Organ Bellows and Sounding Board, which is superior to anything ever used in any Reed Instrument. WM. P. HASTINGS, 69dc9eod6m No. 15 Chestnut street, Portland, Me.

THE notions that prevailed so long in regard to the causes of failing sight have all been overturned by modern science. Instead of any change taking place in the eye-ball it is all confined to the most sensitive parts of the interior of the eye and on that account when glasses are needed requires the most careful and exact treatment.

The undersigned gives special attention to the fitting of glasses not only for the ordinary failure of sight but for the abnormal deformities of Hyperuropia, Myopia and Astigmatism.

For the Hair!

The new preparation recently prepared by us for the restoration of hair to its original color, which prepara ion, as can be seen by the certificate of the State Assayer, Dr. Cummings, is composed of entirely vegetable matter, is now offered to the public. We rely upon it for its virtues, and are willing to trust it upon the public at its intrinsic worth.

Read the following certificate:

PORTLAND, April 11, 1870.

Having examined a specimen of the Botanical Hair Restorative, submitted to my inspection by Mr. J. M. Todd, I am satisfied that it is what he claims it to be, a vegetable preparation pure and simple, and contains no mineral. H. T. CUMMINGS, Chemist.

City of Portland,

APRIL 27, 1870.

THE Trustees of Evergreen Cemetery propose to contract with the proprietors of lots in said Cemetery, for the care of said lots during the season, as follows:

To keep the Grass Cut, Borders Trimmed, Paths in Order and the Flowers properly cultivated.

For a block of	4 lots	$4 00
" "	3 " "	3 00
" "	2 " "	2 00
" "	1 " "	1 00

And for blocks containing a large number of lots, special prices will be given.

This work will be done under the direction of the Superintendent, and thus a uniform neatness in the different avenues obtained, and any profits accruing will go to the general improvement of the Cemetery.

Should you wish to make this arrangement please give immediate information by payment to the City Treasurer, as it is important that the Trustees make their contracts for work before the season advances farther.

☞ The City Ordinances provide that all lots shall be graded under direction of the Superintendent at such prices as may be agreed on. Persons having lots to be graded will call on MR. CHARLES RAMSEY, the Local Superintendent, who is authorized to contract for this work.

☞ Persons owning lots will take notice that an Ordinance prohibits the cutting down or removing of trees, without the written permit of the Trustees.

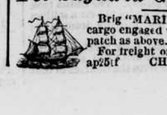
JOSEPH HOBSON. Portland, March 1st, 1870. mar1dtf

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are truly marvellous. Inveterate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasionable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Ulcerous affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

Nervous Disease, &c., &c.

Coughs, Colds, Fevers, Agues, Biliousness, Constipation, Diarrhœa, Neuralgia, Female Weaknesses, Headache, Convulsions, Sleeplessnes, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Consumption, Fainting Fits, Palpitation, Restlessness, Dizziness, Children's Troubles, etc., etc., etc.

Take Care of Yourself.

DODD'S NERVINE is a Pure Tonic—harmonises perfectly with the Nerve Fibre—gives increased energy to the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and other viscera—and supplies fresh life for the waste that is constantly taking place. It operates soothingly—is as pleasant to take as any wine, and with Sleep and Good Digestion, which it promotes, restores the afflicted to sound health of body and quietness of mind. It contains no opium, mercury or strychnine, (so often used for nervous complaints,) and is wholly free from any deleterious drugs whatsoever. Tens of thousands are testifying to its curative powers. See pamphlet accompanying each bottle.
